INTRODUCTION

The Southern California Association of Governments (SCAG) is the lead California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) agency for the proposed 2020-2045 Regional Transportation Plan and Sustainable Communities Strategy (2020 RTP/SCS, Connect SoCal or the Plan). As the lead agency, SCAG has determined to prepare a Program Environmental Impact Report (PEIR) for the 2020 RTP/SCS.

SCAG is a federally designated Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO) under Title 23, United States Code (USC) 134(d)(1). The SCAG region consists of six counties (Imperial, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Ventura counties) and 191 cities (Figure 1). The 2020 RTP/SCS is a regional planning document updated every four years for the SCAG region. The 2020 RTP/SCS will outline the region's goals and policies for meeting current and future mobility needs, provide a foundation for transportation decisions by local, regional and state officials that are ultimately aimed at achieving a coordinated and balanced transportation system. The 2020 RTP/SCS will also identify the region's transportation needs and issues, recommended actions, programs, and a list of projects to address the needs consistent with adopted regional policies and goals, and document the financial resources needed to implement the 2020 RTP/SCS. It is important to note that SCAG does not implement individual projects in the RTP, as they will be implemented by local and state jurisdictions, and other agencies. SCAG has already initiated the development of the 2020 RTP/SCS and is working closely with county transportation commissions (CTCs) to compile a regional transportation project list that will build upon the list identified in the 2016 RTP/SCS (SCAG 2016). This report builds on the analysis and reproduces sections from the 2016 PEIR where appropriate.

In accordance with California Government Code §65080(b)(2)(B), the 2020 RTP/SCS will include a SCS, which details land use, housing and transportation strategies to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions from passenger vehicles (automobiles and light-duty trucks). SCAG's SCS is required to meet reduction targets for GHG emissions of 8 percent per capita by 2020 and 19 percent per capita by 2035 compared with 2005 emission levels, as set by the California Air Resources Board (ARB).

This report describes the current cultural resources within the region and evaluates the significance of the changes in cultural resources that would result from implementation of the proposed 2020 RTP/SCS. In addition, this report provides a framework of mitigation measures for subsequent, site-specific environmental review documents prepared by lead agencies to reduce identified impacts. Information sources utilized in this discussion include the Native American Heritage Commission (NAHC), National Park Service (NPS), California Office of Historic Preservation (OHP), and three of the OHP's Information Centers (ICs): Eastern Information Center (EIC), South Coastal Information Center (SCIC), South Central Coastal Information Center (SCCIC). Specific datasets utilized to characterize the existing conditions include the Sacred Lands File (SLF), National Historic Landmarks (NHLs), National Register of Historic Places (NRHP), California Historical Landmarks (CHLs), California Register of Historical Resources (CRHR), California Points of Historical Interest (CPHI), and the California Historical Resources Information System (CHRIS).

REGULATORY SETTING

Federal

Antiquities Act of 1906

The Antiquities Act of 1906 was the first federal law to provide protection of historic and prehistoric resources located on federal land. This act prohibited destruction of antiquities on public land. It prohibited any excavation located on public land without permission of the appropriate Department Secretary. The Antiquities Act authorized the Secretaries of the Interior, Agriculture, and Army to grant permission to reputable institutions to conduct research (including excavation) to increase knowledge and the permanent preservation of antiquities in public museums. This act authorized the President to declare areas of federal lands as national monuments. Preservation of American Antiquities (43 Code of Federal Regulations [CFR] 3) implements the Antiquities Act. The Archaeological Resources Protection Act (ARPA) of 1979 clarified some of the mandates of the Antiquities Act and supersedes some portions of it. Criminal Acts and Penalties related to archaeological resources incorporated into ARPA, as was the requirement for a permit for the removal or destruction of Antiquities.

Historic Sites Act of 1935

The Historic Sites Act of 1935 established the national policy of preserving historic sites, buildings, and objects for public use. The implementation of this act established the Historic American Building Survey (HABS). This act gave the Secretary of the Interior the authority to preserve data on historic sites and to acquire and preserve archaeological and historic resources on federal land. The act provides for the preservation of historic American sites, buildings, objects, and antiquities of national significance. It refers to sites of national significance but was established as a public law and a code before the NHPA and NRHP defined national significance further.

U.S. Department of Transportation Act of 1966 (Section 4[f])

Section 4(f) of the U.S. Department of Transportation (USDOT) Act of 1966 prohibits the FTA and other USDOT agencies from using land from publicly owned parks, recreation areas (including recreational trails), wildlife and water fowl refuges, or public and private historic properties, unless there is no feasible and prudent alternative to that use and the action includes all possible planning to minimize harm to the property resulting from such a use.

National Historic Preservation Act of 1966

Section 106 of the NHPA states that federal agencies with direct or indirect jurisdiction over federally funded, assisted, or licensed undertakings must take into account the effect of the undertaking on any historic property that is included in or eligible for inclusion in the NRHP, and that the ACHP must be afforded an opportunity to comment, through a process outlined in the ACHP regulations, in 36 CFR 800, on such undertakings. The Section 106 process involves identification of significant historic resources within an “area of potential effect; determination if the undertaking will cause an adverse effect on historic resources; and resolution of those adverse effects through execution of a Memorandum of Agreement. In addition to the ACHP, interested members of the public, including individuals, organizations, and agencies (such as the OHP) are provided with opportunities to participate in the process.

NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

The NRHP was established by the NHPA of 1966 as “an authoritative guide to be used by Federal, State, and local governments, private groups and citizens to identify the Nation’s cultural resources and to indicate what properties should be considered for protection from destruction or impairment” (36 CFR 60.2). The NRHP recognizes properties that are significant at the national, state, and local levels. To be eligible for listing in the NRHP, a resource must be significant in American history, architecture, archaeology, engineering, or culture. Districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects of potential significance must also possess integrity of location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association. A property is eligible for the NRHP if it is significant under one or more of the following criteria:

- Criterion A: It is associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of our history;
- Criterion B: It is associated with the lives of persons who are significant in our past;
- Criterion C: It embodies the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, or method of construction, or represents the work of a master, or possesses high artistic values, or represents a significant and distinguishable entity whose components may lack individual distinction; and/or
- Criterion D: It has yielded, or may be likely to yield, information important in prehistory or history.

Ordinarily cemeteries, birthplaces, or graves of historic figures, properties owned by religious institutions or used for religious purposes, structures that have been moved from their original locations, reconstructed historic buildings, and properties that are primarily commemorative in nature, are not considered eligible for the NRHP, unless they satisfy certain conditions. In general, a resource must be 50 years of age to be considered for the NRHP, unless it satisfies a standard of exceptional importance.

In addition to meeting these criteria, a property must retain historic integrity, which is defined in National Register Bulletin 15 as the “ability of a property to convey its significance” (NPS 1990). In order to assess integrity, the NPS recognizes seven aspects or qualities that, considered together, define historic integrity. To retain integrity, a property must possess several, if not all, of these seven qualities, which are defined in the following manner in National Register Bulletin 15:

1. Location: the place where the historic property was constructed or the place where the historic event occurred;
2. Design: the combination of elements that create the form, plan, space, structure, and style of a property;
3. Setting: the physical environment of a historic property;
4. Materials: the physical elements that were combined or deposited during a particular period of time and in a particular pattern or configuration to form a historic property.
5. Workmanship: the physical evidence of the crafts of a particular culture or people during any given period in history or prehistory;
6. Feeling: a property’s expression of the aesthetic or historic sense of a particular period of time;
7. Association: the direct link between an important historic event or person and a historic property.

Procedures for listing a property in the NRHP are outlined in Procedures for State, Tribal, and Local Government Historic Preservation Programs (36 CFR 61) and in Determinations of Eligibility for Inclusion in the National Register (36 CFR 63). The Secretary of the Interior’s Professional Qualifications Standards for who is allowed to conduct cultural resources studies and evaluations are outlined in 36 CFR 61.

Procedures for artifact curation are noted in Curation of Federally Owned and Administered Archeological Collections (36 CFR 79) for artifacts recovered under the authority of the Antiquities Act (16 USC 431- 433), the Reservoir Salvage Act (16 USC 469-469c), Section 110 of the NHPA (16 USC 470h-2), or the ARPA (16 USC 470aa-mm).

NATIONAL LANDMARKS PROGRAM

36 CFR 65 identifies and designates NHLs and encourages the long-range preservation of nationally significant properties that illustrate or commemorate the history and prehistory of the United States. The NPS administers the National Historic Landmarks Program on behalf of the Secretary of the Interior. Properties designated as NHLs are listed in the NRHP upon designation. All NHLs are NRHP Properties but not all NRHP Properties are NHLs. The criteria for designation as an NHL are similar to those for inclusion in the NRHP but are more stringent and have a greater emphasis on national significance. The Landmark Program Criterion 3, which does not have a counterpart in the NRHP regulations, applies to a resource that represents some great idea or ideal of the American people. Agencies should to the maximum extent possible...minimize harm to NHLs affected by undertakings.

Archeology and Historic Preservation: Secretary of the Interior Standards and Guidelines

As established by 36 CFR 67, one recognized method for generally avoiding adverse effects to historic properties is following the Secretary of the Interior’s Standards for Rehabilitation & Illustrated Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings (Secretary’s Standards). Created under Sections 101(f), (g), and (h), and Section 110 of the amended NHPA of 1966, the Secretary’s Standards offer guidelines and approaches for preserving, maintaining, repairing, and replacing historical materials and features, as well as designing additions or making alterations. Guidance is also provided for new construction adjacent to historic properties, in order to avoid adverse impacts to neighboring properties through a change in setting and feeling. In this way, the Secretary’s Standards outline common-sense approaches that allow for the retention of and/or sensitive changes to the distinctive materials and features that lend a historical resource its significance. These standards and guidelines are not regulatory in nature, nor do they set of interpret policy. Instead that serve as technical advice regarding archaeological and historic preservation procedures.

State CEQA Guidelines Section 15126.4(b)(1) states that a project determined to conform with the Secretary’s Standards can generally be considered to be a project that will not cause material impairment to a historical resource. Nonconformance with the Secretary’s Standards, however, does not uniformly result in material impairment to a historical resource, and some projects that do not comply with the Secretary’s Standards do not cause a significant adverse impact. Project elements must be studied on a case-by-case basis, depending upon the resource and the reasons for its significance. However, projects that comply with the Secretary’s Standards benefit from a regulatory presumption that they would have a less-than-significant adverse impact on historic resources.

Archaeological and Historic Preservation Act of 1974

The Archeological and Historic Preservation Act (AHPA) of 1974 augments requirements of the Historic Sites Act by requiring the preservation of historical and archeological data (including relics and specimens) that may be lost or destroyed by federal construction projects or federally licensed or assisted programs. This act requires data to be preserved even if a site is not preserved. It encourages in situ preservation but supports data recovery efforts for significant historic properties.

Archaeological Resources Protection Act of 1979

ARPA establishes that excavating, removing, damaging, altering, or defacing any archaeological resource more than 100 years of age, on public or American Indian lands, unless authorized by a permit, is a felony. This act was established to preserve and protect archaeological resources located on public and American Indian lands. Excavation or removal permits must be granted by the appropriate federal agency/land manager to qualified investigators, if the proposed work is anticipated to contribute to archaeological knowledge and is of public interest. Work on Indian lands requires separate American Indian approval. All materials recovered from public land are the property and responsibility of the United States. Collection of archaeological items from public lands is prosecuted as theft of government property. It prohibits the sale, purchase, exchange, transportation, receipt, or offering of any archaeological resource obtained in violation of any regulation or permit under the act or under any federal, state, or local law.

American Indian Religious Freedom Act

AIRFA establishes U.S. policy to protect and preserve American Indian, Eskimo, Aleut, and Native Hawaiian freedom to believe, express, and exercise traditional religions and ways. This includes access to religious sites and the freedom to worship through ceremonial and traditional rites. Federal agencies must determine if policy and procedure changes are needed to protect such rights and freedoms. The act is aligned with the First Amendment guarantee of religious freedom. It is not implemented with regulations.

Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act of 1990

The Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) of 1990 (25 USC 3001 et seq.) protects human remains, funerary objects, sacred objects, and items of cultural patrimony of indigenous peoples on federal lands. NAGPRA stipulates priorities for assigning ownership or control of such cultural items excavated or discovered on federal or tribal lands, or in the possession and control of an agency that has received federal funding.

NAGPRA also provides for the repatriation of human remains and associated items previously collected from federal lands and in the possession or control of a federal agency or federally funded repository. Implementing regulations are codified in 43 CFR Part 10. In addition to defining procedures for dealing with previously collected human remains and associated items, these regulations outline procedures for negotiating plans of action or comprehensive agreements for treatment of human remains and associated items encountered in intentional excavations, or inadvertent discoveries on federal or tribal lands.

This regulation (last amended March 21, 2007) provides a Plan of Action (POA) for NAGPRA. To prevent work stoppages that last 30 days each time cultural items (as defined by NAGPRA) are encountered, it allows the responsible federal agency to create a POA to follow if these cultural items (as defined by NAGPRA) are encountered. POAs require consultation with the appropriate Indian tribe or Native Hawaiian organization with respect to tribal lands, if known or readily ascertainable, and, in the case of lands that have been selected by an Alaska Native Corporation or group organized pursuant to the Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act of 1971[43 USC 1601 et seq.], the appropriate corporation or group (25 USC 3002d).

State

California Implementation of Federally and State-Mandated Historic Preservation Program

The California OHP is responsible for administering federally and state mandated historic preservation programs to further the identification, evaluation, registration and protection of California's irreplaceable archaeological and historical resources under the direction of the State Historic Preservation Officer (SHPO), a gubernatorial appointee, and the State Historical Resources Commission.

OHP's responsibilities include:

- Identifying, evaluating, and registering historic properties;
- Ensuring compliance with federal and state regulatory obligations;
- Encouraging the adoption of economic incentives programs designed to benefit property owners; and
- Encouraging economic revitalization by promoting a historic preservation ethic through preservation education and public awareness and, most significantly, by demonstrating leadership and stewardship for historic preservation in California.

OHP reviews and comments on thousands of federally sponsored projects annually pursuant to Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act and state programs and projects pursuant to Sections 5024 and 5024.5 of the Public Resources Code (PRC). OHP also reviews and comments on local government and state projects pursuant to CEQA.

The purpose of OHP's project review program is to promote the preservation of California's heritage resources by ensuring that projects and programs carried out or sponsored by federal and state agencies comply with federal and state historic preservation laws and that projects are planned in ways that avoid any adverse effects to heritage resources. If adverse effects cannot be avoided, the OHP assists Lead Agencies in developing measures to minimize or mitigate such effects.

OHP administers the NRHP, the CRHR, the CHL, and the CPHI programs. Each program has different eligibility criteria and procedural requirements; all register nominations must be submitted to the Commission for review and approval.

NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

Applications to nominate California properties to the NRHP are submitted to OHP for review and approval by the State Historic Resources Commission (SHRC). Authorized under the NHPA, the National Register is part of a national program to coordinate and support public and private efforts to identify, evaluate, and protect historic and archeological resources. The National Register is administered by the NPS, which is part of the U.S. Department of the Interior. Prior to forwarding Nomination Packages for consideration for the National Register, OHP must review the package and make a determination that it conforms to the guidelines published by NPS Bulletin 16A. If approved by the SHRC, the nomination is sent to the State Historic Preservation Officer for nomination to the National Register.

CALIFORNIA REGISTER OF HISTORICAL RESOURCES

Created in 1992 and implemented in 1998, the CRHR is “an authoritative guide in California to be used by state and local agencies, private groups, and citizens to identify the state’s historical resources and to indicate what properties are to be protected, to the extent prudent and feasible, from substantial adverse change” (PRC Sections 21083.2 and 21084.1). Certain properties, including those listed in or formally determined eligible for listing in the NRHP and CHL numbered 770 and higher, are automatically included in the CRHR.

Other properties recognized under the CPHI program, identified as significant in historical resources surveys, or designated by local landmarks programs may be nominated for inclusion in the CRHR. According to PRC Section 5024.1(c), a resource, either an individual property or a contributor to a historic district, may be listed in the CRHR if the State Historical Resources Commission determines that it meets one or more of the following criteria, which are modeled on NRHP criteria:

- Criterion 1: It is associated with events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of California’s history and cultural heritage.
- Criterion 2: It is associated with the lives of persons important in our past.
- Criterion 3: It embodies the distinctive characteristics of a type, period, region, or method of construction, or represents the work of an important creative individual, or possesses high artistic values.
- Criterion 4: It has yielded, or may be likely to yield, information important in history or prehistory.

Resources nominated to the CRHR must retain enough of their historic character or appearance to convey the reasons for their significance. Resources whose historic integrity does not meet NRHP criteria may still be eligible for listing in the CRHR.

CALIFORNIA HISTORICAL LANDMARKS

CHL are sites, buildings, features, or events that are of statewide significance and have anthropological, cultural, military, political, architectural, economic, scientific or technical, religious, experimental, or other value. The specific standards now in use were first applied in the designation of Landmark #770. CHL #770 and above are automatically listed in the CRHR.

To be designated as a CHL, a resource must meet at least one of the criteria listed below; have the approval of the property owner(s); be recommended by the State Historical Resources Commission; and be officially designated by the Director of California State Parks.

Criteria for Designation. To be eligible for designation as a Landmark, a resource must meet at least one of the following criteria:

- The first, last, only, or most significant of its type in the state or within a large geographic region (Northern, Central, or Southern California).
- Associated with an individual or group having a profound influence on the history of California.
- A prototype of, or an outstanding example of, a period, style, architectural movement or construction or is one of the more notable works or the best surviving work in a region of a pioneer architect, designer or master builder.

Effects of Designation:

- Limited protection: Environmental review may be required under CEQA if property is threatened by a project. Contact your local planning agency for more information.
- Local assessor may enter into contract with property owner for property tax reduction (Mills Act).
- Local building inspector must grant code alternative provided under State Historic Building Code. Registration will be recorded on the property deed.
- Automatic listing in CRHR.
- Bronze plaque at site (underwritten by local sponsor) ordered through OHP; highway directional sign available through local Department of Transportation (Caltrans) district office.

CALIFORNIA POINTS OF HISTORICAL INTEREST

If a site is primarily of local interest, it may meet the criteria for the CPHI program. California Points of Historical Interest are sites, buildings, features, or events that are of local (city or county) significance and have anthropological, cultural, military, political, architectural, economic, scientific or technical, religious, experimental, or other value. Points of Historical Interest designated after December 1997 and recommended by the State Historical Resources Commission are also listed in the California Register. No historical resource may be designated as both a Landmark and a Point. If a Point is subsequently granted status as a Landmark, the Point designation will be retired.

Criteria for Designation. To be eligible for designation as a Point of Historical Interest, a resource must meet at least one of the following criteria:

- The first, last, only, or most significant of its type within the local geographic region (City or County).
- Associated with an individual or group having a profound influence on the history of the local area.
- A prototype of, or an outstanding example of, a period, style, architectural movement or construction or is one of the more notable works or the best surviving work in the local region of a pioneer architect, designer or master builder.

Effects of Designation.

- Limited protection: Environmental review may be required under CEQA if property is threatened by a project. Contact your local planning agency for more information.
- Local assessor may enter into contract with property owner for property tax reduction (Mills Act).
- Local building inspector must grant code alternative provided under State Historic Building Code.
- Registration is recorded on property deed.
- A small enamel directional sign (no text) available through local Caltrans district office.
- Owner may place his or her own marker at the site.

California Environmental Quality Act

CEQA requires a lead agency to analyze whether historic and/or archaeological resources may be adversely affected by a proposed project. Under CEQA, a “project that may cause a substantial adverse change in the significance of a historic resource is a project that may have a significant effect on the environment” (PRC Section 21084.1). Answering this question is a two-part process: first, the determination must be made as to whether the proposed project involves cultural resources. Second, if cultural resources are present, the proposed project must be analyzed for a potential “substantial adverse change in the significance” of the resource.

California Coastal Act

The California Coastal Act (CCA; PRC Sections 30000 et seq.) was enacted in 1976, four years after the Coastal Commission was created by Proposition 20. It requires the implementation of reasonable mitigations measures to protect archaeological resources as identified by the SHPO when development would adversely impact such resources.

California Health and Safety Code, Section 7050 and Sections 18950 through 18961

Section 7050 of the California Health and Safety Code, pursuant to Section 50907.9 of the PRC, empowers the NAHC to regulate Native American concerns regarding the excavation, treatment, and disposition of Native American cultural resources. These duties include, when applicable, the authorization to resolve disputes relating to the treatment and disposition of Native American human remains and such items as are associated with burials. Section 7050 requires the county coroner, if they have determined that the remains are not subject to their authority and recognizes or believes them to be those of a Native American, to contact the NAHC. Upon this notification of discovery, the NAHC notifies the Native American group or individual most likely descended (MLD) from the deceased.

California Penal Code Section 622 – Destruction of Historical Properties

Penal Code Section 622 establishes that the willful injury, disfiguration, defacement, or destruction of any object, thing, or site, of archaeological or historical interest or value, as a misdemeanor. This applies to resources situated on both private and public land. Furthermore, Section 622.5 sets the applicable penalties for any such damage or removal of cultural resources.

California Public Resources Code, Sections 5024, 5024.5, 5025, 5028, 5097.5, 5097.9, and 5097.98-99

In an effort to establish a state program to preserve historical resources, the California State Legislature enacted the California PRC sections 5024 and 5024.5. These sections require that all state agencies take actions to ensure the preservation of state-owned historical resources under their jurisdictions. This includes evaluation of resources for NRHP and CHL eligibility, maintain an up to date inventory of all eligible and listed resources to these registries, and managing resources so as to retain their historical characteristics.

Section 5025 of the California PRC established the need for state repositories dedicated to the preservation and restoration of artifacts related to the history of aviation within California and the United States. This included the designation of a state aviation museum.

Section 5028 of the PRC specifies that no structure that is listed on the NRHP, on the California Register of Historical Places, or on any local public register of historic places, and that has been damaged due to a natural disaster, including, but not limited to, an earthquake, fire, or flood, may be demolished, destroyed, or significantly altered, except for restoration to preserve or enhance its historical values, unless the structure presents an imminent threat to the public of bodily harm or of damage to adjacent property, or unless the OHP determines, that the structure may be demolished, destroyed, or significantly altered.

PRC section 5097.5 defines the unauthorized disturbance or removal of archaeological, historical, or paleontological resources, situated on public land, as a misdemeanor. In addition, this section of the PRC prohibits the willful and knowing destruction of object of antiquity, without a permit, on public land, and creates criminal sanctions of such violations. It was amended in 1987 to require consultation with the California NAHC whenever Native American Graves are found, and to designate that the removal or possessions of remains or artifacts are felonies, punishable by law.

Section 5097.9 created the California NAHC with the purpose of making recommendations that can encourage private property owners to protect and preserve sacred places in a natural state and allow Native Americans appropriate access for ceremonial or spiritual practices. As part of their duties, the Commission is authorized to assist tribal members in obtaining similar access to sacred sites that are situated on public lands, as well as to assist State agencies in negotiations with federal agencies related to the protection of Native American sacred places located on federally administered lands within the borders of California.

PRC Sections 5097.98 through 5097.99 requires that the California NAHC must be consulted upon the discovery and identification of and Native American graves. Furthermore, these sections established that it is illegal to take or possess remains or artifacts taken from Native American graves after 1984. In addition, any violations of these sections that occur after January 1, 1988, are considered felonies, punishable by law.

Senate Bill 18 – Traditional Tribal Cultural Places

Signed into law in 2004, Senate Bill (SB) 18 requires that cities and counties notify and consult with California Native American tribes about proposed local land use planning decisions for the purpose of protecting traditional tribal cultural sites. Cities and counties must provide general and specific plan amendment proposals to California Native American tribes that the NAHC has identified as having traditional lands located within the city’s boundaries. If requested by the Native American tribes, the city must also conduct consultations with the tribes prior to adopting or amending their general and specific plans.

Assembly Bill 52

Assembly Bill 52 of 2014 (AB 52) amended PRC Section 5097.94 and added PRC Sections 21073, 21074, 21080.3.1, 21080.3.2, 21082.3, 21083.09, 21084.2, and 21084.3.

AB 52 formalizes the lead agency–tribal consultation process, requiring the lead agency to initiate consultation with California Native American groups that are traditionally and culturally affiliated with the project, including tribes that may not be federally recognized. Lead agencies are required to begin consultation prior to the release of a negative declaration, mitigated negative declaration, or environmental impact report.

Section 4 of AB 52 adds Sections 21074(a) and (b) to the PRC, which address tribal cultural resources and cultural landscapes. Section 21074(a) defines tribal cultural resources as one of the following:

- 1) Sites, features, places, cultural landscapes, sacred places, and objects with cultural value to a California Native American tribe that are either of the following:
  - A. Included or determined to be eligible for inclusion in the CRHR.

- B. Included in a local register of historical resources as defined in subdivision (k) of Section 5020.1.
- 2) A resource determined by the lead agency, in its discretion and supported by substantial evidence, to be significant pursuant to criteria set forth in subdivision (c) of Section 5024.1. In applying the criteria set forth in subdivision (c) of Section 5024.1 for the purposes of this paragraph, the lead agency shall consider the significance of the resource to a California Native American tribe.

Section 1(a)(9) of AB 52 establishes that “a substantial adverse change to a tribal cultural resource has a significant effect on the environment.” Effects on tribal cultural resources should be considered under CEQA. Section 6 of AB 52 adds Section 21080.3.2 to the PRC, which states that parties may propose mitigation measures “capable of avoiding or substantially lessening potential significant impacts to a tribal cultural resource or alternatives that would avoid significant impacts to a tribal cultural resource.” Further, if a California Native American tribe requests consultation regarding project alternatives, mitigation measures, or significant effects to tribal cultural resources, the consultation shall include those topics (PRC Section 21080.3.2[a]). The environmental document and the mitigation monitoring and reporting program (where applicable) shall include any mitigation measures that are adopted (PRC Section 21082.3[a]).

Executive Order B-10-11

Executive Order B-10-11 establishes the states policy regarding Native American groups, including the recognition of their sovereign rights, and the states desire that all agencies subject to executive control is to encourage the communication and consultation with California Native tribes. Furthermore, in order to implement this policy, it created the position of Governor’s Tribal Advisor as part of the Office of the Governor of California. This position was established to serve as the direct link between the Governor’s Office and the numerous tribal governments regarding matters of policy, including legislation and regulation.

Local

County General Plans

In addition to federal and state regulations, cities and counties in the SCAG region may also provide regulatory protection and advisement regarding cultural resources (Table 1). California law requires that a general plan include seven elements (land use, open space, conservation, housing, circulation, noise, and safety). Many jurisdictions incorporate policies related to cultural and historical resources into the conservation element. Other jurisdictions choose to prepare a separate (optional) element dealing with cultural and/or historic preservation issues. Many jurisdictions also prepare ordinances addressing cultural resources and historic preservation.

City General Plans and Ordinances

In accordance with Sections 6530(c) and (d) of the California Government Code, like the six counties in the SCAG region, all cities are required to have a conservation element and an open space element, as mandatory elements of their general plans. Many city general plans have provisions for historic districts and protection of locally important cultural resources that may or may not meet the criteria for eligibility for listing in the NRHP or CRHR.

CULTURAL CONTEXT

A brief context statement is provided below. The cultural context is organized by three broad temporal-cultural periods: Prehistoric, Protohistoric, and Historic. The Prehistoric and Historic periods are further divided into chronological sequences. The Prehistoric period is discussed in terms of four “horizons” that were established in the mid-twentieth century and continue to be developed by archaeologists. The Prehistoric and Protohistoric periods are intended to reflect Native American history prior to Spanish presence in the SCAG region (Prehistoric period) and shortly after (Protohistoric period). The Prehistoric horizons are based primarily on archaeological data, whereas information from the Protohistoric period also includes oral history and historical records. The divisions within the Historic period are based strictly on the years of Spanish, Mexican, and American government administration. As a result, the Protohistoric period has some overlap with the Spanish period, the former being affiliated exclusively with Native Americans, the latter with Europeans or other non-Native Americans.

Prehistoric

In the last several decades, researchers have devised numerous prehistoric chronological sequences to aid in understanding cultural changes in southern California. Building on early studies and focusing on data synthesis, Wallace (1955, 1978) developed a prehistoric chronology for the southern California coastal region that is still widely used today and is applicable to near-coastal and many inland areas. Four horizons are presented in Wallace’s prehistoric sequence: Early Man, Milling Stone, Intermediate, and Late Prehistoric. The summary of prehistoric chronological sequences for southern California coastal and near-coastal areas presented below is a composite of information in Wallace (1955) and Warren (1968), as well as more recent studies using radiocarbon dates obtained by researchers in the last three decades, including Koerper and Drover (1983).

Horizon I: Early Man (ca. 10,000–6,000 BC)

The earliest accepted dates for archaeological sites on the southern California coast are from two of the northern Channel Islands, located off the coast of Santa Barbara. On San Miguel Island, Daisy Cave clearly establishes the presence of people in this area approximately 10,000 years ago (Erlandson 1991:105). On Santa Rosa Island, human remains have been dated from the Arlington Springs site to approximately 13,000 years ago (Johnson et al. 2002). Present-day Orange and San Diego counties contain several sites dating from 9,000 to 10,000 years ago (Byrd and Raab 2007:219; Macko 1998:41; Mason and Peterson 1994:55–57; Sawyer and Koerper 2006). Although the dating of these finds remains controversial, several sets of human remains from the Los Angeles Basin (e.g., “Los Angeles Man,” “La Brea Woman,” and the Haverty skeletons) apparently date to the Middle Holocene, if not earlier (Brooks et al. 1990; Erlandson et al. 2007:54).

Recent data from Horizon I sites indicate that the economy was a diverse mixture of hunting and gathering, with a major emphasis on aquatic resources in many coastal areas (e.g., Jones et al. 2002), and a greater emphasis on large-game hunting inland.

Horizon II: Milling Stone (6,000–3,000 BC)

Set during a drier climatic regime than the previous horizon, the Milling Stone horizon is characterized by subsistence strategies centered on collecting plant foods and small animals. The importance of the seed processing is apparent in the dominance of stone grinding implements in contemporary archaeological assemblages, namely milling stones (metates) and handstones (manos). Recent research indicates that Milling Stone horizon food procurement strategies varied in both time and space, reflecting divergent responses to variable coastal and inland environmental conditions (Byrd and Raab 2007:220).

Horizon III: Intermediate (3,000 BC–AD 500)

The Intermediate horizon is characterized by a shift toward a hunting and maritime subsistence strategy, along with a wider use of plant foods. An increasing variety and abundance of fish, land mammal, and sea mammal remains are found in sites from this horizon along the California coast. Related chipped stone tools suitable for hunting are more abundant and diversified, and shell fishhooks became part of the toolkit during this period. Mortars and pestles became more common during this period, gradually replacing manos and metates as the dominant milling equipment and signaling a shift away from the processing and consuming of hard seed resources to the increasing importance of the acorn (e.g., Glassow et al. 1988).

Horizon IV: late Prehistoric (AD 500–Historic Contact)

In the Late Prehistoric horizon, there was an increase in the use of plant food resources in addition to an increase in land and sea mammal hunting. There was a concomitant increase in the diversity and complexity of material culture during the Late Prehistoric horizon, demonstrated by more classes of artifacts. The recovery of a greater number of small, finely chipped projectile points suggests increased use of the bow and arrow rather than the atlatl (spear thrower) and dart for hunting. Steatite cooking vessels and containers are also present in sites from this time, and there is an increased presence of smaller bone and shell circular fishhooks; perforated stones; arrow shaft straighteners made of steatite; a variety of bone tools; and personal ornaments such as beads made from shell, bone, and stone. There was also an increased use of asphalt for waterproofing and as an adhesive.

By AD 1000, fired clay smoking pipes and ceramic vessels were being used at some sites (Drover 1971, 1975; Meighan 1954; Warren and True 1961). The scarcity of pottery in coastal and near-coastal sites implies that ceramic technology was not well developed in that area, or that occupants were trading with neighboring groups to the south and east for ceramics. The lack of widespread pottery manufacture is usually attributed to the high quality of tightly woven and watertight basketry that functioned in the same capacity as ceramic vessels.

During this period, there was an increase in population size accompanied by the advent of larger, more permanent villages (Wallace 1955:223). Large populations and, in places, high population densities are characteristic, with some coastal and near-coastal settlements containing as many as 1,500 people. Many of the larger settlements were permanent villages in which people resided year-round. The populations of these villages may have also increased seasonally.

In Warren's (1968) cultural ecological scheme, the period between AD 500 and European contact, which occurred as early as 1542, is divided into three regional patterns: Chumash (Santa Barbara and Ventura counties), Takic/Numic (Los Angeles, Orange, and western Riverside counties), and Yuman (San Diego County). The seemingly abrupt introduction of cremation, pottery, and small triangular arrow points in parts of modern-day Los Angeles, Orange, and western Riverside counties at the beginning of the Late Prehistoric period is thought to be the result of a Takic migration to the coast from inland desert regions. Modern Gabrielino, Juaneño, and Luiseño people in this region are considered the descendants of the Uto-Aztecan, Takic-speaking populations that settled along the California coast in this period.

Protohistoric

The Protohistoric period does not have a clear chronological timeline but may be defined by the boundaries of 500 to approximately 1600. Although early Spanish explorers and mission fathers recorded information on the local Native American populations, professional anthropological studies did not begin until the end of the 19th century after most of the Indian groups had been decimated by genocide, mixed with other Indigenous groups, were assimilated by Spanish, Mexican, and American cultures, or were forced to relocated to reservations.

The SCAG region once was the home to at least 11 distinct Native American groups. These include the Cahuilla, Chumash, Gabrielino, Halchidhoma, Kitanemuk, Luiseno, Mohave, Quechan, Serrano, Southern Paiute, Tataviam, and Tipai. The territorial boundaries of the Native Americans who were residing in Southern California at the time of first European contact do not coincide with today's political boundaries. Moreover, many tribal boundaries overlapped, and most groups migrated within their general boundaries throughout the years.

Between 1851 and 1852 federal agents, negotiated 18 treaties that included 139 tribes, to establish reservation lands across almost a third of California. The treaties were not ratified by Congress, and as a rule, Congress no longer negotiated with American Indians from 1871. However, the federal government continued the policy of forced migration and established a number of reservations in Southern California between 1875 and 1891. In all 17 reservations were established within the SCAG region, within Imperial, Riverside, and San Bernardino Counties. Riverside County holds the most, including Chemehuevi, Fort Mojave, Torres, Cabazon, Augustine, Santa Rosa, Ramona, Pechanga, Soboba, Agua Caliente, Mission

Creek, and Morongo. Within Imperial County are the Martinez, Fort Yuma, and Colorado River reservations. The two reservations in San Bernardino County are the San Manuel and Twentynine Palms reservations. No reservations were established in Los Angeles, Ventura, or Orange Counties as it was believed that the local Native American groups in those counties had become extinct.

Historic

Post-contact history for the state of California is generally divided into three periods: the Spanish period (1769–1822), the Mexican period (1822–1848), and the American period (1848–present). Although there were brief visits by Spanish, Russian, and British explorers from 1529 to 1769, the Spanish period in California began with the establishment of Mission San Diego de Alcalá, the first of 21 missions constructed between 1769 and 1823. Independence from Spain marks the beginning of the Mexican period, and the signing of the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo in 1848, ending the Mexican-American War, signals the beginning of the American period, when California became a territory of the United States.

Spanish Period (1769–1821)

Spanish explorers made numerous expeditions into California between the mid-1500s and mid-1700s. In the process of delivering supplies to another expedition, Hernando de Alarcon followed the Colorado River in 1540 and reached what is now Andrade in Imperial County. Two years later, in search of the legendary Northwest Passage, Juan Rodríguez Cabrillo stopped in 1542 at present-day San Diego Bay. With his crew, Cabrillo explored the shorelines of present Catalina Island as well as San Pedro and Santa Monica Bays. Much of the present California and Oregon coastline was mapped and recorded in the next half-century by Spanish naval officer Sebastián Vizcaíno. Vizcaíno’s crew also landed on Santa Catalina Island and at San Pedro and Santa Monica Bays, giving each location its long-standing name. The Spanish crown laid claim to California based on the surveys conducted by Cabrillo and Vizcaíno (Bancroft 1886:96–99; Gumprecht 2001:35).

More than 200 years passed before Spain began the colonization and inland exploration of Alta California. With the renewed interest into the area by other European nations, such as Britain, France, and Russia, who all sent expeditions into the area, Spain officially moved to settle the territory. The 1769 overland expedition by Captain Gaspar de Portolá marks the beginning of California’s Historic period, occurring just after the King of Spain installed the Franciscan Order to direct religious and colonization matters in assigned territories of the Americas. With a band of 64 soldiers, missionaries, Baja (lower) California Native Americans, and Mexican civilians, Portolá established the Presidio of San Diego, a fortified military outpost, as the first Spanish settlement in Alta California. In July 1769, while Portolá was exploring Southern California, Franciscan Fr. Junípero Serra founded Mission San Diego de Alcalá at Presidio Hill, the first of the 21 missions that would be established in Alta California by the Spanish and the Franciscan Order between 1769 and 1823.

These missions were part of the Spanish plan that included the settlement of three pueblos and four presidios, that would provide Spain control over Alta California. While one of the pueblos, Branciforte would fail, the other aspects of this plan would be successful.

Mexican Period (1822–1848)

A major emphasis during the Spanish period in California was the construction of missions and associated presidios to integrate the Native American population into Christianity and communal enterprise. Incentives were also provided to bring settlers to pueblos or towns, but just three pueblos were established during the Spanish period, only two of which were successful and remain as California cities (San José and Los Angeles). Several factors kept growth within Alta California to a minimum, including the threat of foreign invasion, political dissatisfaction, and unrest among the indigenous population. After more than a decade of intermittent rebellion and warfare, New Spain (Mexico and the California territory) won independence from Spain in 1821. In 1822, the Mexican legislative body in California ended isolationist policies designed to protect the Spanish monopoly on trade, and decreed California ports open to foreign merchants.

Extensive land grants were established in the interior during the Mexican period, in part to increase the population inland from the more settled coastal areas where the Spanish had first concentrated their colonization efforts. The secularization of the missions following Mexico's independence from Spain resulted in the subdivision of former mission lands and establishment of many additional ranchos.

During the supremacy of the ranchos (1834–1848), landowners largely focused on the cattle industry and devoted large tracts to grazing. Cattle hides became a primary southern California export, providing a commodity to trade for goods from the east and other areas in the United States and Mexico. The number of nonnative inhabitants increased during this period because of the influx of explorers, trappers, and ranchers associated with the land grants. Many newcomers were Americans that had traveled west and married into landed families. The rising California population contributed to the introduction and rise of diseases foreign to the Native American population, who had no associated immunities.

An attempted northern California revolt in 1846, was quickly stopped, but the American Navy arrived soon after, and on January 13, 1847, Governor Pio Pico and Commander Jose Maria Flores officially surrender to US Captain John C. Fremont. The Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo in 1848 was the end of Mexican rule in California.

American Period (1848–Present)

The Mexican–American War officially ended with the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo in 1848, which resulted in the annexation of California and much of the present-day southwest, ushering California into its American period. While gold was first found by Francisco Lopez in 1842 within Placerita Canyon, it wasn't until James Marshall's gold find in 1848 that the Gold Rush began, drastically changing California.

California officially became a state with the Compromise of 1850, which also designated Utah and New Mexico (with present-day Arizona) as U.S. territories. With Statehood and the population boom, legal battles over the land rights of the rancho's were prevalent. By the time American courts decided upon each case, many of the ranches had already be lost by their original Mexican landowners, through deceit, debt, or marriage.

With the huge influx of people seeking gold, the cattle industry flourished as cattle were no longer desired mainly for their hides, but also as a source of meat and other goods. During the 1850s cattle boom, rancho vaqueros drove large herds from southern to northern California to feed that region's burgeoning mining and commercial boom. Cattle were at first driven along major trails or roads such as the Gila Trail or Southern Overland Trail, then were transported by trains when available. The cattle boom ended for southern California as neighbor states and territories drove herds to northern California at reduced prices. Operation of the huge ranchos became increasingly difficult, and droughts severely reduced their productivity (Cleland 1941). With that, many of the rancho lands were transformed to agricultural fields.

The connection of California to the rest of the United States by rail in the 1870s resulted in another population boom, as well as a land boom. Towns began to be established along rail lines, and with them additional mineral deposits were identified and mined. These mining camps existed for only short periods of time before being abandoned.

EXISTING CONDITIONS

This section characterizes the existing conditions related to cultural resources in the SCAG region, which encompasses an area of more than 38,000 square miles within the counties of Imperial, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Ventura. The baseline conditions in the SCAG region are described for 1) cultural resources, 2) Native American sacred sites, and 3) cemeteries. The discussion of cultural resources includes archaeological resources associated with various time periods, as well as non-archaeological resources such as buildings, structures, and other elements of the historical built environment.

Cultural Resources

Historical resources are defined in Section 15064.5(a) of the State CEQA Guidelines and are evaluated according to the provisions of Section 15126.4 of the State CEQA Guidelines. Furthermore, AB 52 requires that CEQA lead agencies consider the effects of projects on tribal cultural resources. Such resources may be underrepresented in the record and archival information available in the information centers, existing in developed areas of a community, where development occurred prior to enactment of CEQA.

Archaeological resources consist of the physical remains of past human activity, and the occupation of Southern California by humans for thousands of years has created innumerable such resources. If an archeological resource is determined to be a historical resource as defined in Section 15064.5(a) of the State CEQA Guidelines, it is evaluated in light of the provisions of Section 15126.4 of the State CEQA Guidelines. If the resource is not a historical resource but meets the definition of a unique archeological resource as established in Section 21083.2 of the PRC, the site is required to be treated in accordance with the provisions of Section 21083.2 of the PRC. For project that are subject to the provisions of AB 52 (i.e., when a Negative Declaration, Mitigated Negative Declaration, or Environmental Impact Report are prepared), consideration must include archeological resources that are determined to be tribal cultural resources. Such resources may be underrepresented in the record and archival information available in the information centers, as they may be present in existing developed areas, developed prior to enactment of CEQA.

As of July 2019, over 109,000 archaeological resource locations have been identified in the SCAG region (Table 2). In order to protect these archaeological sites, and the artifacts contained within their boundaries, from scavenging and looting, their locations are confidential. Under state law, detailed information about these sites, especially their location, is considered confidential.

There are numerous historical resources that have been listed or determined eligible for listing in the NRHP and/or the CRHR. These historical sites are generally open to the public. Additional registries are maintained by counties, cities, and local historical societies within the SCAG region, that may include sites not listed or determined eligible by the NRHP or CRHR.

* The SCIC database is currently being revised and the count of total resources is an approximation based on current listings. The number of resources with archaeological components is taken from the 2016 General Plan, Open Space & Conservation Element. The total number of resources was approximated by SCIC staff and provided to SWCA via email on July 1, 2019.

** The EIC database is not currently configured to distinguish historic-period archaeological resources from non-archaeological historic resources (i.e., buildings, structures, etc.). Instead, the EIC provided tallies of resources with components dating to the respective periods as follows: 13,993 Prehistoric archaeological sites; 1 Protohistoric archaeological site; 15,313 Historic period cultural resources (archaeological sites and historic resources); 202 sites of unknown cultural or temporal affiliation. Because an individual resource may have components that fall into multiple periods, the sum of all resources listed for each period is greater than the total number of resources. The total number of archaeological sites was estimated for Riverside County to allow for comparison with other counties across the SCAG region. This was done for Riverside County by taking the 13,994 archaeological sites listed as Prehistoric and Protohistoric (because these resources can only be archaeological sites) and adding an estimated fraction of those listed as Historic and Unknown Period, which could consist of historic resources (i.e., non-archaeological). The estimate provided here assumes 40 percent of those resources listed as Historic or Unknown Period have archaeological components that are not multi-component resources (and already tallied as Prehistoric or Protohistoric).

Federal Registers

In order to coordinate and support efforts, both public and private, to identify, evaluate, and protect historic and archaeological resources, the federal government created the NRHP, as part of the NHPA of 1996. This register serves as the official list of buildings, structures, objects, sites, and districts deemed by the federal government as worthy of preservation, as determined by evaluations along uniform criteria. There are currently over 85,000 listings in NRHP, of which 1,123 are located in the SCAG region (Table 3). A complete list of these resources is located in Appendix A, Table A-1.

Also recognized by the federal government are NHLs. These are districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects that the Secretary of the Interior has determined to be significant to the nation’s history and culture or illustrate events or places that were important contributions to the historical development of the United States. There are currently over 2,500 listings in the NHL Database of which 29 are located in the SCAG region (Table 4). A full accounting of these landmarks is located within Appendix B, Table B-1.

State Registers

The State of California keeps a record of districts, places, sites, and buildings determined to hold historic or prehistoric significance. Two registers, administered by the California OHP and the SHRC, are part of the California Department of Parks and Recreation. There are over 1,000 listings in the register of CHL, of which 226 are located in the SCAG region (Table 5), and with the CPHI, there are 850 listings, of which 284 are located in the SCAG region (Table 6).

Historic places are also recorded and can be identified in county, city, and local registers. These resources are also under various ordinances specific to the county, city, or locality. City and county registers may also be maintained by various county and city commissions. Examples of these types of organizations include the Riverside County Historical Commission, the Santa Ana Historic Resources Commission, and the Santa Monica Landmarks Commission. Local groups have also created registries within their area of interest, generally at the community level. An example of such local registers is the Ontario Heritage, a local non-profit organization that aims to protect the historic and cultural resources of Ontario, California. Furthermore, several local cities and counties maintain historic districts. Projects within the borders of these districts are often subject to additional conditions and review by planning staff and historic commissions. A full detailing of these resources is located in Appendix C (Tables C-1 through C-4) and Appendix D (Table D-1).

Native American Sacred Sites

Within the SCAG region there are 16 federally recognized tribes (84 FR 1200) with lands administered as federal Indian reservations, also known as pueblos, rancherias, missions, villages, communities, etc. (Bureau of Indian Affairs 2019):

- Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians
- Augustine Band of Mission Indians
- Cabazon Band of Mission Indians
- Cahuilla Band of Indians
- Chemehuevi Indian Tribe
- Colorado River Indian Tribe
- Fort Mojave
- Morongo Band of Mission Indians
- Quechan Indian Tribe
- Pechanga Band of Luiseño Indians

Recognizing that tribal groups may have expertise with regard to their tribal history and practices that others may not, AB 52 requires lead agencies to provide notice to all tribal groups that are traditionally, culturally, and historically affiliated with the geographic area of a proposed project if they have requested such notice. Some of these groups are not federally recognized, have had their federal recognition revoked, or are in the processes of requesting federal recognition. The NAHC maintains the list of tribes that are traditionally and culturally affiliated within a specified geographic area. Below is a list of tribes on the NAHC's AB 52 notification list within the SCAG region, including the federally recognized groups listed above:

- Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians
- Augustine Band of Cahuilla Indians
- Barbareño/Ventureno Band of Mission Indians
- Big Pine Paiute Tribe of the Owens Valley
- Cabazon Band of Mission Indians
- Cahuilla Band of Indians
- Campo Band of Digueño Mission Indians
- Chemehuevi Indian Tribe
- Coastal Band of the Chumash Nation
- Colorado River Indian Tribes of the Colorado River Indian Reservation
- Ewiiapaayp Band of Kumeyaay Indians
- Fernandeno Tataviam Band of Mission Indians
- Fort Mojave Indian Tribe
- Gabrieleño Band of Mission Indians–Kizh Nation
- Gabrieleno/Tongva San Gabriel Band of Mission Indians

Native American sacred sites reflect the evolution of the Southern California landscape, reflecting the rich cultural heritage of Native American cultures that predate and continued beyond European contact. Native American sacred sites may be related to a range of topics, including origins of the universe, the shifting of tectonic plates, and an evolving array of plants and animals that give Southern California its unique features today. Some sites are associated with the migration of humans into the region, where they settled, and how they lived. These sites document the view of Native American cultures of their own history and way of life.

SWCA contacted the NAHC on behalf of SCAG on December 5, 2018 to request a Sacred Lands File Search and CEQA Tribal Consultation List under AB 52. The NAHC responded in a letter dated December 18, 2018 and indicated that the SLF search yielded positive results; the letter also included a list of 61 contacts for tribal consultation. SCAG sent letters to all 61 of these contacts via certified mail on January 8, 2019. SCAG’s letter described the 2020 RTP/SCS and PEIR, and invited tribal parties to consult under AB 52. On behalf of SCAG, SWCA subsequently followed up by email on March 13, 2019 with those contacts who had not responded. In total, seven parties responded to SCAG’s outreach effort. Two of these, the Pala Band of Mission Indians and the Big Pine Paiute Tribe of the Owens Valley, declined consultation. Five parties – the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians, the Fernandeano Band of Mission Indians, the Gabrieleno Band of Mission Indians – Kizh Nation, the Juaneño Band of Mission Indians Acjachemen Nation, and the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians – requested consultation and additional details, including the cultural resources technical study, once completed. SCAG replied to the five parties who requested consultation and provided a timeline for the cultural resources technical study, which it anticipates sharing in late 2019. In the meantime, SCAG invited the interested tribes to attend project scoping meetings.

On December 10 2019, SCAG sent all parties on the NAHC list copies of the draft PEIR and the draft version of this technical report by mail. Two comments were received. The Santa Ynez Band of Chumash Indians Tribal Elders’ Council replied in a letter dated December 27, 2019 and indicated that they requested no further consultation on the project; however, they requested that if supplementary literature reveals additional information, or if the scope of the work changes, they be notified. The San Manuel Band of Mission Indians responded in an email dated January 6, 2020 indicating that they had no concerns or comments regarding the project, but noted that the acreage of the San Manuel Reservation is actually 1,1243.68 acres, not the 673 acres referenced from a Bureau of Indian Affairs source in the draft PEIR.

SCAG followed up with the five tribal parties who requested AB 52 consultation on the project via email on February 19, 2020 to confirm receipt of the December 2019 draft PEIR and technical report and to solicit input. A response was received from the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians, who referenced their January 2020 correspondence described above. The Gabrieleno Band of Mission Indians – Kizh Nation responded via email on March 3, 2020. The Fernandeno Tataviam Band of Mission Indians requested a consultation call to discuss their comments. The consultation conference call was held on March 4, 2020. Jairo Avila of the Fernandeno Tataviam Band of Mission Indians relayed comments on the proposed mitigation measures for cultural and tribal cultural resources. A written comment letter detailing the comments was received on March 13, 2020. The mitigations measures were revised based on the input received from tribal parties. SCAG sent a letter to Mr. Avila on March 23, 2020 responding to his comments and attaching the revised mitigation measures. Follow up calls were placed to the Agua Caliente Band of Cahuilla Indians and the Jauneño Band of Mission Indians, Acjachemen Nation on March 3, 2020, but no additional comments were received. The results of the Native American outreach effort are further detailed in Appendix E. Copies of relevant correspondence are included in Confidential Appendix F.

The NAHC is charged with identifying, cataloging, and protecting Native American cultural resources and sacred sites, which is maintained as the SLF. An SLF search for the SCAG region was requested by SWCA and provided by the NAHC on July 5, 2019. The results identified a count of the total number of SLF listings within each county (Table 7). The nature and precise location of these resources is confidential.

Human Remains

Human remains in the SCAG region occur within the nearly 200 formal cemeteries in the six-county area and those interred outside of formal cemeteries (Table 8).

In the SCAG region, there are many circumstances in which human remains outside formal cemeteries could be encountered. In addition to existing formal cemeteries, many cemeteries have been relocated. While the goal of such relocation projects is to repatriate human remains to a new location, there have been instances where human remains have been encountered at the original location of a relocated cemetery during subsequent ground-disturbing activities. There is also a potential to find human remains that are the result of foul play. There are also burial features associated with historic settlements and other indigenous people. Burial features can range in complexity from a simple isolated inhumation (burial or cremation) to more elaborate interments containing numerous bodies. These features may represent specially designated interment areas or remnants of larger archaeological sites. Burial associations can include shell beads and ornaments as well as ground and polished stone artifacts. In some areas, human burials are expected to be found in raised earthen mounds. Native American groups within the SCAG region varied in their burial practices with respect to interment and cremation.

RE: Southern California Association of Governments, Los Angeles, Ventura, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, and Imperial Counties.

Dear Ms. Gibson:

A record search of the Native American Heritage Commission (NAHC) Sacred Lands File (SLF) was completed for the information you have submitted for the above referenced project. The results were positive. Please contact the tribes on the attached list for more information. Other sources of cultural resources should also be contacted for information regarding known and recorded sites.

Attached is a list of Native American tribes who may also have knowledge of cultural resources in the project area. This list should provide a starting place in locating areas of potential adverse impact within the proposed project area. I suggest you contact all of those indicated; if they cannot supply information, they might recommend others with specific knowledge. By contacting all those listed, your organization will be better able to respond to claims of failure to consult with the appropriate tribe. If a response has not been received within two weeks of notification, the Commission requests that you follow-up with a telephone call or email to ensure that the project information has been received.

If you receive notification of change of addresses and phone numbers from tribes, please notify me. With your assistance we are able to assure that our lists contain current information. If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact me at my email address: katy.sanchez@nahc.ca.gov.
Sincerely,

She said since their tribal territory is not in those counties, they will defer to the other tribes and will not consult. 03/18/2019: Email received from Ms. Gutierrez indicating the tribe defers to local tribes. However the tribe recommends that all federal, state and county laws be adhered to for the protection of cultural resources They request that SCAG take into consideration the habitat of wildlife and sacred vegetation/plants/trees, water sources/trails, migration trails, traditional trails and adverse effects to the environment; lands, air and water. They hope that SCAG will protect all cultural/natural resources and wildlife habitat located within the project area and also hire Tribal Cultural Monitors/Tribal Participation for any ground disturbances and to assist in defining the entire area in cultural/environmental studies.

Fernandeño Tataviam Band of Mission Indians

01/08/2019: Letter sent via certified mail

12/10/2019: SCAG sent draft PEIR and cultural resources technical study

01/31/2019: Email received from Jairo Avila requesting consultation; requests to review the PEIR and archaeological/cultural resource reports to understand Plan's objectives and policies

02/06/2019: SCAG replied thanking the tribe for their request to consult, providing timeline for CR technical study (late 2019) and information regarding upcoming Scoping Meetings

12/10/2019: SCAG sent draft PEIR and cultural resources technical study

02/19/2020: SCAG sent email requesting comments on PEIR and cultural resources technical study

02/20/2020: Email received from Jairo Avila of FTBMI stating PEIR was not received and requesting time to review and a teleconference week of 03/02/2020

03/04/2020: Conference call held between SCAG and FTBMI to discuss comments on cultural resources technical study and mitigation measures. Mr. Avila relayed that the counts of resources in the technical resources study might not be all encompassing because resources exist that aren't on file with the CHRIS or the NAHC. SCAG replied that this is understood and research and outreach for individual projects would be conducted as part of environmental review for each project, with tribes then having the opportunity to share information on potentially affected resources at the project level. Mr. Avila relayed concern about the GIS tools mentioned in SMM CULT-1 and SMM TCR-1 and asked whether that would include confidential information. SCAG clarified that it would include no confidential site locational information. Mr. Avila commented that PMM CULT-1 h. and i. should mention tribal participation in the process in case of survey, testing and data recovery, and under l. that curation should not be the only option for recovered artifacts, but that if tribes can arrange for reinternment, that could be done as well.. SCAG agreed to revise PMM CULT-1. Mr. Avila commented regarding PMM CULT-2 that there are cases where human remains are discovered, and the coroner does not go to the field to examine them. He asked that SCAG reword the mitigation measure to define that in those cases, a "culturally affiliated Native American monitor" would be one that is on the NAHC list or designated by the affiliated tribe on the list. Mr. Avila indicated he would follow up with written comments.

03/06/2020: SCAG emailed Mr. Avila to follow up on written comments

03/11/2020: SCAG emailed Mr. Avila to follow up on written comments.
